

I am opposed to the proposal to be considered on June 2 that would give broadcasters and publishers the right to increase the number of media outlets they are allowed to own. Already, the airwaves, tv, and print media are under the control of only a handful of corporations. Freedom of speech -- that basic and cherished tenet of our society -- is being jeopardized by the consolidation of this vital industry.